Project Plan

Understanding of the Project

Native Medicare Charitable Trust (NMCT) has built a stellar legacy since 1988, driving impactful grassroots initiatives across Tamil Nadu in tribal development, women empowerment, health/HIV-AIDS care, and environmental sustainability.

However, NMCT's current digital footprint operates primarily as a static archive. To attract modern institutional donors, corporate CSR partners (e.g., Bosch, Titan, Ford), and the next generation of individual changemakers, the website must evolve.

Quantzi Infotech will transform NMCT's web platform from an information-heavy repository into an emotive, narrative-driven storytelling engine. Heavily inspired by global benchmarks like Charity: Water and Doctors Without Borders, the revamped platform will blend cinematic visual storytelling with transparent impact data and a frictionless donation ecosystem to accelerate funding and community trust.

Key Requirements Overview

Story-Driven UX/UI: Transition from text-dense blocks to a high-impact visual narrative focusing on human-centric stories from the field.

Dual-Option Architecture Costing:

- Option A (Static Engine): High-speed, secure, fixed-content pages with an embedded external/secure third-party payment form.
- Option B (Full Dynamic Engine): Built on a Content Management System (CMS) allowing NMCT to dynamically publish real-time blog stories, project updates.

Frictionless Donation Funnel: Integrated direct payment gateway (PayU)

Responsive Architecture: 100% mobile-first optimization tailored to load instantly across rural or low-bandwidth networks.

Standards: Fully responsive, SEO-optimised.
